

Event types

The type of the event allows the system to identify the kind of event referred to. The available pre-defined names are relative to the specification of the type.

The "types" of events

job	Specifies the entire job subjob	Specifies a single subjob work	Specifies a single work agenda item host	Specifies the event belongs to a host time	Specifies a time-based event - see here repeat	Specifies an interval event global	Specifies a time-based event that exists independent of a job

Table 4: Event Types