

worker_idle_threads

Synopsis

```
worker_idle_threads = threads
```

The idle number of Worker threads. This allows the Worker to maintain a specified number of threads ready to service network messages. If the Worker finds that it is unable to satisfy the incoming traffic, it will spawn additional threads up to `Worker_max_threads`.

Example

```
worker_idle_threads = 3
```

Defaults

4